Bolivia: Christianity: Bolivia Finally Gives Evangelicals Same Rights as Catholics.
With new law, president Evo Morales comes through on his promise of greater religious freedom. / Evangelicals in Bolivia received a major religious freedom boost this week from the same administration that banned evangelism last year. / Months after Evo Morales criminalized proselytizing—before swiftly reversing course—the Bolivian president reached out to Christians to help draft legislation to recognize evangelical churches and institutions. This week, he made it official.
With this law, all churches have the same rights,” said Morales. There is equality.

Bolivia: Christianity: Bolivia's president reverses evangelism ban after Christian outcry. / Bolivia's president has cancelled the country's ban on evangelism, which was put into law last month. / President Evo Morales announced on Twitter that the gov't will repeal the penal code that criminalised evangelism and put restrictions on religious freedom... / President Morale's U-turn on the ban came after an outcry from Christians. / A prayer march in Santa Cruz, Bolivia./ According to Evangelical Focus, there were protests & some held a special day of prayer and fasting...

Bolivia: Christianity: New Law in Bolivia Aims to Control Churches, Impose Beliefs, Protestant Leaders Say. / 8/28/2013 Bolivia (Morning Star News) – Protestant church leaders in Bolivia are trying to revoke a new law they say aims to “impose contrary beliefs” & “denies us right to be a church.” / Asserting Law351 is unconstitutional, National Association of Evangelicals of Bolivia (ANDEB) will file suit this week before Plurinational Legislative Assembly demanding that it be revoked; Christian leaders argue its re-registration requirements restrict the “rights and religious freedoms of churches.”

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PN_3pTC6Z1g (191118,XrizztianRoy) (Summary [Translated]: For the interim president of Bolivia, Jeanine Añez, Evo Morales is responsible for the crisis in her country. / On her third day at the Government Palace of La Paz, Añez already changed the entire high military command of the country, took an oath from her ministers & announced the priorities of her administration: to renew the electoral authorities throughout Bolivia and to give power to a new president from "fair and transparent elections." / From Mexico, Evo Morales described her as "self-proclaimed president" and to consummate the coup d'etat that, according to him, ended her term of almost 14 yrs. Añez responds that he [Morales] is the real responsible for the crisis that triggered his resignation after the fraudulent elections on October 20.

<https://www.opendemocracy.net/en/democraciaabierta/how-the-oas-and-the-medias-lack-of-scrutiny-caused-a-violent-coup-in-bolivia/> SUMMARY:
(In a world of post truth politics, a false media narrative based on the OAS's flawed statistics was instrumental in overthrowing a democratically elected government. Now Bolivia faces the consequences.) (As often happens when an elite-driven coup leads to US-endorsed regime change, there are powerful attempts to disguise its real character. A recurrent method is to blame the coup on its victim. Of this, the November 10, 2019 coup in Bolivia is a textbook example.)

Bolivia: Coup: Religion: Old religious tensions resurge in Bolivia after ouster of longtime indigenous leader. / Invoking the Christian God as the source of political power, while commonplace in many countries, is a radical departure in Bolivia after Morales's 14-year tenure. / EXCERPT: Religion does not map neatly onto ethnic divisions in Bolivia. Only around 4 percent of Bolivians claim to practice indigenous religions. The majority - about 75 percent - are Catholic, and 18 percent belong to evangelical or other Protestant denominations. / However, as my ongoing research shows, religion, ethnicity and culture are tightly woven together in the Andes region. In Bolivia, as elsewhere in Latin America, indigenous people may belong to Christian churches & also observe native religious practices... Bolivia: Coup: Six (6) lessons from Bolivia's coup - CODEPINK (Excellent!) 8:35 !!!D

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O6SG9JI6g3Y> (191117,CodePink) TRANSCRIPT/PARAPHRASE:
(6 simple lessons of what we can learn from the coup in Bolivia that ousted Evo)
(Morales and paved the way for a right-wing takeover of the country.)

1.) What a coup, 21st century style looks like. [MyRem: A lot like a 1970's coup!]
* It doesn't matter if there is interruption in current Presidential mandate because the armed forces "suggest" that the president resign.
* Or if interruption of constitutional rule is not accepted by the Parliament.
* Or if violent groups opposed to the President burn the home of the Pres. sister,- and even break into the President's house.
* It's simple: If there are elections held in your country and you decide to participate, be sure you make clear in advance that you don't trust the electoral-tribunal, and you won't accept the announced results. (That's only if you lose.)
* And if your opponent (in 3way race) wins with 47% of the votes, call the OAS;- ask them to publish a preliminary report alleging fraud (no evidence needed).
* Don't worry, they'll rush so you don't lose momentum, then demand new elections- be held on condition your rival, current President, is not allowed to participate.
* Have your fascist friends burn houses of governing party, & kidnap their- families, forcing the president to resign. And presto! You're President!
You didn't even have to wait until the President's term was over.
* And of course, have president of USA say what happened in Bolivia is "significant- moment for democracy." (MyRem: Significant alright - for a new totalitarian state!)
* Don't worry, mainstream media will help, and so will some ultra-left hard liners.
2.) You don't have to actually win an election to be the president of a country.
* JUST write to selfproclaimme at OAS.org and you can proclaim yourself president!
* The Congress is supposed to approve resignation of a President, but didn't.
* MAS party members harrassed, assaulted, threatened, injured, so no quorum to acc.
* BUT Jeanine Anez, VP of the senate, self proclaimed herself president anyway.
* [My comment: What self-reslecting Latin American elitist autocrat wouldn't!]
* Anez invoked Article 170 of Constitution; says presidency ceases if pres absent.
* But does not take into account that Morales did not leave of his own accord.
* Anez elected senator in 2014 with 91,985 votes (1.7% of population. Morales 47%.)

Link20200301bcoup.txt

- 3.) Can't trust your enemy. (Anti-Morales argument center on referendum of Feb 2016)
* Morales lost ref. * But went to courts and won. * Recog. by SecCen Luis Almagro.
* Morales invited electoral commission and OAS, and even accepted a binding audit.
* Historically proven that OAS is not a neutral actor.
* 2008 Right wing violence in East Bolivia included occup. airports, bombing State-companies, massacre of political activists, so Evo cut deal w/Santa Cruz business.
- 4.) It's the economy, stupid! Is it?
* Definitely not. Morales achievements in education, health, economic growth.
* Was economy w/highest economic growth 3.9%. Unemp. fell 8-4%. Poverty cut by 1/2
* During celeb. of Morales resignation, many burned wiphala. 70% Indigenous/mestizo.
* Large groups of indigenous & peasants in country took to streets to demand respect.
* Epicenter coup in Santa-Cruz, & regions where anti-indig. light color people live.
* It is about power. About an elite who are used to controlling the country.
* That elite is now using religion for political purposes, showing with extreme-fanaticism and intolerance that they want to regain power at all costs.
* Not about Evo Morales being a Caudillo who wants to perpetuate himself in power. (Angela Merkel was also in power 14 years.)
- 5.) It's not enough to have the people on your side.
* Bolivian security forces colonized by US imp'lism. US trains, joint exerc, indoctr
* Transformation of Armed Forces should have been priority for Morales.
- 6.) Follow the money.
* Once Evo threat to existing sys. in Bolivia, US invest "democracy building" progs.
 Funding political parties & movements, espec. in Santa Cruz via USAID & the NED.
 PODEMOS, Comité Civico Pro-Santa Cruz[LFC], Unión Juvenil Crucenista: implicated. (ViewerRem: ac: I went to the market and a person pointed me with a gun, suggesting) (to give him my car according to the OAS, this is not a robbery.) (Pos.Lazero89)
